The declinist view of aging has created negative stereotypes that fail to recognize that Elders have their own noble purpose in society. When we are able to break away from the view of seeing aging as decline and Elders as broken adults, we can begin to discover a new old age. This new old age is based on the belief and promise of developmental aging, a stage where we continue to grow and develop in many different ways. Join international speaker, Nancy Fox, as together we begin to create a new map of aging that will lead us to a world in which we can reap the rich rewards that come with a new old age.
